Weekly Update

Overview

We have had a relatively quiet week but continue to welcome visitors and groups to the club.

Winter competitions have now started and the Ladies, Gents and Senior prize-giving events are scheduled between now and the end of November. If you haven't already reserved your place please do so as required through your section.

A range of winter clothing, gloves and bobble hats are now in stock for both ladies and gents and being well received. Please remember that you will receive a 5% members discount on pro-shop stock purchases on items above £10. If your size or colour preference is not available, please speak to Steve and he can organise a custom order for you.

The buggies are now off-hire and we are waiting for them to be collected, uplift expected shortly. So, while they are parked up outside the pro-shop they are no longer available for hire. They will of course be back for the start of the 2023 season!

Results

Greenkeeping Update

The drought of the summer is a distant memory - two dry days so far this month and it doesn't look like there will be many more!

With all this rain it is imperative that pitch marks are repaired. We know that the greens are slightly soft at the moment due to the weather and the coring but please take a minute to look for and repair any pitch marks.

In the coming weeks we will carry out more aeration work on the greens to help move some of the excess water. We appreciate your patience while we complete this important job.

Golf Operations

Steve is back after a well earned break however, Joe is now off on annual leave until late next week. While he is away, the office is closed so please bear with us. The enquiries email is being monitored and addressed so please continue to direct queries to Steve or enquiries@muckhartgolf.com.

Featured Partner

Colorado Construction – Leading National Construction Firm

Colorado Construction is an engineering, construction and finishes business based in Scotland, specialising in listed buildings, bespoke luxury homes, and the design & build of distilleries and visitor centres. Colorado Construction is currently building a unique vertical distillery on nine levels in Edinburgh. The Port of Leith Distillery will create a one-of-a-kind experience for visitors, showcasing the full whisky life cycle up close.

This award-winning firm has been recognised thanks to their dedicated approach to focusing on what their clients want and in delivering every job to a consistently high standard whether it be a contract for ongoing maintenance and support or a complex multi-million pound project to build a new distillery – such as those at Torabhaig, Inchdairnie or Glen Turner, a new visitor centre or bonded warehouses. Colorado Construction believes in working in an ‘open book’ manner and aims to provide demonstrable value throughout the construction and engineering process. Their success with this approach, where their people take an ‘ownership’ approach to every project, is demonstrated by the fact that 85% of Colorado Construction’s work comes from repeat business.
